

INT. KITCHEN - MORNING

APRIL sits at the table. A journal and pen in front of her.

She has both hands wrapped around a mug.

BOB walks in.

APRIL
Morning sunshine.

BOB Mmhh.

APRIL
What's your plan for today?

BOB
Gonna get some lumber. Figured I'd get to build'n that doghouse.

April sips her coffee.

APRIL
I was thinking about driving up to the Yards. We could make it a day.

Bob pours himself a bowl of cereal.

BOB
I'll stay here. Dutch prob'ly thinks I don't care no more.

APRIL
That's ok, I'm sure Cathy can go.

Bob sits down.

BOB
Can you grab me a couple of those cinnamon rolls you always get?

April takes another sip of coffee. She closes her journal.

APRIL
What color you gonna do. Maybe we could go get some paint later.

She reaches across the table and touches his hand.

BOB
I don't know yet. But we can do that. We could make it a date.

Bob eats a spoonful of cereal.

April puts her hand back on her mug.

APRIL
A date to Home Depot?

She takes another sip.

BOB
We can make it extra special. And go to In-and-out for dinner.

APRIL
No burgers tonight.

BOB
Or we can go to the salad place that you like.

A sip of coffee.

APRIL
I know what color you should paint your doghouse.

BOB
What's that.

Bob puts a spoonful of cereal in his mouth.

APRIL
Red.

BOB
I forgot our anniversary didn't I?
